

State Safety Bill Would Bar All Cars: GM

LANSING (AP)—General Motors Corp. said today that no auto built in the past 65 years could pass road safety tests provided under a bill pending in the Legislature.

GM spokesmen told the Senate Highway Committee, that, if the bill were enacted into law, "state highways would be bare of all cars built to date because none of the passenger cars made in the world . . . would qualify."

State Sen. Roger E. Craig, D-Deerborn, sponsored the measure, which some observers said would, in effect, rule off Michigan highways Chevrolet Corvairs, 1960 through 1963 models, plus Volkswagen, Renault, Fiat, Porsche and other rear engine cars. Craig said he was not aiming at any particular make.

GM Ends Silence
GM, which had maintained a no-comment attitude through the more than 100 law suits filed against the 1960-63 Corvairs, broke that silence in its appearance before the Senate Highway Safety Committee today.

Louis H. Bridenstine, assistant general counsel of General Motors, said of the Corvair suits:

"General Motors policy of not making public statements directly to news media or indirectly at any public hearings relating to matters in litigation is a sound policy and is in accordance with the Canon of Ethics of the legal profession."

Against Corvair
"However, General Motors is now confronted with the introduction of legislation in the Senate which, though veiled in its language, is directed against the design of the Corvair automobile."

"Under these circumstances, GM feels it has an obligation to this committee considering the proposed legislation, as well as to many of its customers who own and drive 1960-63 model Corvairs with assurance and satisfaction to speak out against the proposed legislation and to speak out in defense of its product."

Bridenstine said: "It is important that this committee and the public generally understand that the vast majority of these lawsuits alleging design defects in the 1960-63 Corvair have been instituted and well publicized by a small, but vocal, group of lawyers and that all of the suits are of a similar pattern."

Only 2 Suits Tried
The GM attorney pointed out that only two of the Corvair suits have gone to a jury and that in both of them, at San Jose, Calif., and Clearwater, Fla., the jury ruled in favor of General Motors.

Bridenstine, answering charges that GM had not made its Corvair safety test results public, told the Senate that 1,637 pages of technical testimony were made available in the California and Florida cases and an additional 34,000 pages were introduced in a case pending in Illinois.

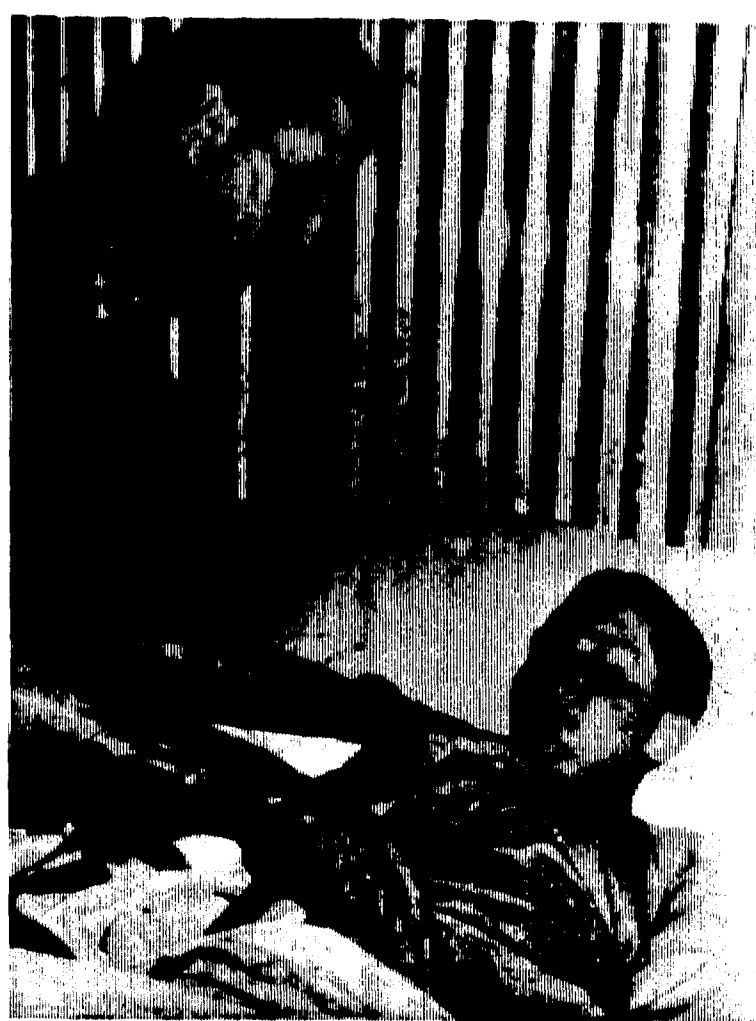

Sen. Craig's bill was based on his belief that the rear end of the 1960-63 Corvair, for example, tended to veer around when rounding curves, sometimes resulting in rollovers. His legislation would rule off highways cars which could not pass cornering tests.

STEPHEN LAIER, 10, receives a purple heart from Maj. Gen. Jonathan Seaman of the First Infantry Division in Viet Nam. A few days later the courageous young soldier, who lost both legs in the explosion of a Viet Cong mine, died. (AP Wirephoto)

Grieving Family Reports:

Hero Hesitated To Write About Loss Of Legs

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — "He probably was hesitant to write because he knew it would hurt us," said the father of Stephen Laier. "He was that kind of boy."

Joseph G. Laier was talking about his 18-year-old son who lost both legs in a Viet Cong mine blast. Laier and his wife didn't learn of their son's injuries until eight days before the young infantryman died.

Husky Stephen Laier was credited with guiding a patrol to his besieged unit in the jungles of Viet Nam Feb. 4, although mortally wounded himself. The mine had torn off both his legs but the blond, 225-pound soldier stayed by his radio. "I was the only man who could operate it," he told doctors before he died.

Tied Tourniquets
Laier tied rough tourniquets around the stumps of his legs and began calling his company headquarters to tell them of the ambush which killed three men of his unit and injured the remaining 11.

Laier, given 60 blood transfusions, lived 15 days. The doctors did everything to save him.

His father, a foreman at a meat packing plant in this northeast Indiana city of 162,000, said his son was "not one to complain."

"You could not want a better boy than Steve," he said, "he was one in a million."

Fellow soldiers agreed. He was presented a Bronze Star with "V" for valor.

At Lakeside Junior High School, Laier won several trophies for archery. He also played football and had attended North Side High School before enlisting in the Army.

Was Stock Boy
Parttime jobs kept him busy after school and during the summer. He had worked as a stock boy in a discount department store and later behind the counter in a restaurant.

He and his father owned a registered beagle pup, "Carmie." Steve had hoped to enter him in field trial competition. Laier's letters home inquired about the dog, his father said. Nurse Marguerite Giroux helped the spunky soldier write some of these notes from the hospital at Bien Hoa.

"He was so brave that he didn't even want to tell his girl friend that he was so sick," the nurse recalled. "He said she should not have to worry about him."

Letters also were sent to a brother, Joseph L. Laier, in Edgerton, Ohio, two sisters, Karen and Kay, at home, and other friends.

His family later received a tribute to the young radioman written by his commanding officer, Maj. Gen. Jonathan Seaman of the 1st Infantry Division. It read: "With men like Laier, our division, our Army, our country will always be great."

Humphrey Tour Stirs War Foes

MANILA (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey arrived tonight to discuss American Viet Nam policies in the Philippine capital where left-wing demonstrators shouting "Humphrey go home" besieged the U.S. Embassy only a few hours before.

The airport was cordoned off by an unusually large number of security forces.

Humphrey in an airport statement said he would talk to president Ferdinand E. Marcos Tuesday on the Viet Nam situation.

Humphrey arrived from New Zealand as the Philippine Congress began debates on Marcos proposal to send a 2,000-man combat engineer unit to Viet Nam.

This was the proposal which drove demonstrators into the streets about 1,000 of them marched from the presidential palace to Congress and then to the U.S. Embassy.

The demonstrators, opposing not only Humphrey's visit but U.S. policies in Viet Nam, dispersed about an hour and a half before the vice president's arrival. But they said there would be another demonstration Tuesday.

Demonstrators awaiting Humphrey's arrival protested against U.S. policies in Viet Nam as well as the vice president's visit.

The demonstrations by students, civil servants and farmers were called to oppose a $4-million bill in the Philippine Congress that would finance the sending of 2,000 combat engineers to Viet Nam.

Earlier today Humphrey conferred with Prime Minister Keith J. Holyoake of New Zealand at Parliament House in Wellington. A handful of demonstrators stood silently outside with signs denouncing the Viet Nam war.

During his arrival in Wellington Sunday from Canberra, Australia, Humphrey's car was rushed by a sign-waving demonstrator who was hurled back by police. In Canberra the previous day about 150 demonstrators called Humphrey a "warmonger."

Allied Forces Cut Cong Rice Supply System

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Big U. S. and Allied military operations are beginning to crimp the Viet Cong supply system for the first time.

The most notable success came during Operation Van Buren, which threw nearly a division of American, Korean and Vietnamese troops into the Tuy Hoa rice bowl. Their job was to make certain the fertile coastal valley's 48,000 tons of rice wound up in government storehouses instead of Viet Cong caches.

In the past, large Viet Cong units moved into the 200-square-mile valley during the harvest and controlled more than half of it. Now, for the first time in several years, Phu Yen Province will export rice instead of importing it.

U.S. military officials said this year three regiments — two Viet Cong and one of North Vietnamese regulars — began converging on the valley 230 miles northeast of Saigon just before the harvest began a month ago.

Old Charlie Hurt
The American 101st Airborne Brigade, the Korean marine brigade and two battalions of government troops swept the valley clear of the enemy. By the official count more than 500 Communist troops were killed.

"If any army marches on its stomach, old Charlie is in the hurt locker," a U.S. adviser in Phu Yen Province said. Charlie is an American nickname for the Viet Cong.

"The Viet Cong supply system is too good to strangle with what we have now, but taking that much rice away means real trouble for the Viet Cong highland units," said a U.S. source concerned with trying to block supplies to the enemy.

U.S. Marines near Da Nang and U.S. and government troops operating in Binh Tuy Province carried out smaller operations earlier that brought in nearly 10,000 tons of rice.

U.S. troops operating north of Saigon have run into hundreds of Viet Cong rice caches, big and small. Hundreds of tons of rice were destroyed or brought back and placed under government control.

Last year, the national police seized nearly 3,000 tons of rice at checkpoints set up to control the flow of goods from government to Viet Cong areas. They are doing even better this year.

Although Viet Nam has been fighting a civil war for years, there is no food rationing and no control over the sale of such key items as medicine and light machinery which can be used in Viet Cong arms factories.

Police Revitalized
The first tentative effort at resources control did not come until October 1964 when the national police were ordered to stop the flow of strategic goods into Viet Cong hands.

At the time there were only about 20,000 police in the country. They were still suffering from bad morale and lost reputation from the days of ex-President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Today the police are 54,000 strong and their ranks are expected to swell to 72,000 by the end of the year. A major share of the new men will be thrown into the resources control program. This type of program aided the British in crushing a Communist guerrilla uprising in Malaya.

The effectiveness of the police has increased in past months, and apparently the Viet Cong are worried. They have increased attacks on police posts and checkpoints, some on the outskirts of Saigon.

Bob Kennedy's Plea For Cong Parley Fought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Prime Minister Nguyen Cao Ky of South Viet Nam have assailed Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's view that the Viet Cong should be offered a share of power in the Saigon government.

They said Kennedy's proposals that the United States express willingness to accept a coalition South Vietnamese government which would include Communists would not be an acceptable solution, would not lead to peace and — if adopted — could impose on the people of South Viet Nam the very forces trying to destroy them.

Humphrey said history has demonstrated that when Fascists or Communists are included in a coalition government, there is either paralysis or takeover.

Fox Among Chickens

Speaking to newsmen at Wellington, New Zealand, during one of his many stops on a tour of Southeast Asia and the Pacific, the vice president said to adopt Kennedy's proposals would be like putting a fox in a chicken coop.

There wouldn't be too many chickens left, he said.

"I do not believe in writing a prescription for the ills of South Viet Nam that includes a dose of arsenic," Humphrey said. Sticking to analogies, he said further that Kennedy's suggestion would be like having an arsonist in the fire department.

Ky, queried about Kennedy's suggestion in Saigon, snapped: "The so-called National Liberation Front does not liberate anybody. They killed 11,000 of our troops last year and 22,000 of the innocent people in the countryside. They murdered them."

1000 Per Cent Red

"They are 1,000 per cent Communist and they are illegal," the prime minister added, "so let's not talk about the National Liberation Front any more."

Kennedy suggested Saturday that the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong, must be brought to the bargaining table. To "admit them to a share of power and responsibility," the New York Democrat said, "is at the heart of a negotiated settlement."

McGeorge Bundy, special assistant to President Johnson for security affairs and an old Kennedy family friend, disagreed. Appearing Sunday on NBC's radio-television program "Meet the Press," Bundy said he did not want to comment directly on the proposals, but then added:

"I can say that the administration does not take the view that admitting the Communists to a share of the power and responsibility would be a useful or helpful step — one that would really lead to peace."

State Rests Mossler Case
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The state rested its first-degree murder case today against blonde Candace Mossler and her strapping nephew, Melvin Lane Powers, in the 1964 slaying of her aging multimillionaire husband, Jacques Mossler.

The defense was ready with the presentation that is hand-tailored to fit the courtroom talents of Powers' chief attorney, Percy Foreman, a colorful Texas lawyer. He will be the final plea in the case.

With direct prosecution testimony at an end, Dade County Circuit Judge George Schulz confronted routine midtrial defense motions — for a directed verdict of acquittal, or dismissal of charges for lack of evidence.

However, he is expected to continue the trial, now in its sixth week, with the all-male jury rendering the final judgment. The maximum penalty facing Mrs. Mossler and Powers, if convicted as charged, is death in the electric chair.

Allies Move Against Cong On Two Fronts

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—American and South Vietnamese troops moved on two fronts against a high-core regiment of 900 to 1,000 Viet Cong today after the guerrillas rained mortar shells on U.S. Marine and Vietnamese positions during the night.

In the air, the United States lost a jet bomber and two helicopters.

The U.S. 7th Fleet destroyer Orleck joined the ground assault by blasting the coast of Quang Ngai Province with 309 rounds of five-inch shells, either wrecking or damaging more than 100 buildings in an area the Viet Cong have used for rest camps.

The air war continued in North and South Viet Nam.

Authorities said his daughter, Mirielle, suffered arm burns trying to rescue her father. His wife was uninjured.

A score of police guarded the entrance to the home as the fire raged. Flames were visible for more than a mile and smoke filled the surrounding area.

Apollo

Moon Rocket Test Wednesday

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The 22-story Saturn 1B rocket, the most powerful built by the United States, makes its launching debut Wednesday as Project Apollo's first step on the long trip to the moon.

The rocket is to drill an unmanned Apollo ship 300 miles into space and drive it back through the atmosphere at a speed up to 18,000 miles an hour.

The ballistic flight, which will last only 39 minutes, is the first of a long series of Apollo launchings which must precede the landing of American astronauts on the moon by 1970.

Recovery will be attempted when the cabin section, to hold future astronauts, drops by parachute into the South Atlantic 5,300 miles southeast of Cape Kennedy.

The launch is the first of three unmanned tests for the spacecraft and the rocket before three astronauts step inside the Apollo for an 8- to 14-day earth orbital journey late this year or early 1967.

Police Ask Help In Finding Dog

Carroll Johnson, Gladstone chief of police, appealed to the public today to help locate a beagle which bit a Gladstone woman in the Gladstone library last Wednesday night.

Johnson said the woman was bitten on the right arm and that unless the dog is located she will have to undergo a painful series of rabies shots.

Interviews with persons who were in the library have failed to turn up any leads concerning the dog's owner.

Johnson asked anyone with information about the dog or the dog's owner to call the police department at GA 5-2321. He said the dog could belong to someone from Escanaba as there were several students from Escanaba and Holy Name high schools in the library that evening.

Cold Chills Deep South

By The Associated Press
Thirteen states from Maine to Montana remained in the grip of a bitter Arctic cold wave today.

For International Falls, Minn., it was the seventh consecutive day the thermometer has not risen above zero. This morning's low was -31.

Escanaba's overnight low was 4 degrees.

The subfreezing temperatures also pushed into the Deep South while snow spread through the Ozarks. Richmond, Va., shivered in a 17-degree reading.

Bitter cold temperatures and wind-blown snow resulted in both flooding and blocked highways Sunday.

Winds up to 50 miles an hour whipped snow squalls down the Mohawk Valley, cutting visibility to zero in some places and forcing the closing of a 150-mile section of the New York Thruway between Westport, west of Syracuse, and Albany.

In Philadelphia, tow trucks removed at least 60 cars abandoned on the Schuylkill Expressway because of the heavy snow.

Jobless Claims Hit 13-Year Low

WASHINGTON (AP) — New Unemployment Insurance claims for the week ending Feb. 12 fell to the lowest level for any corresponding week in 13 years, the Labor Department said.

Ruppe To Seek GOP Nomination For Congress

HOUGHTON — Philip E. Ruppe, 39-year-old Houghton businessman and banker, today joined the fight for the Republican nomination to oppose incumbent 11th District Congressman Raymond Clevenger (D-Sault Ste. Marie) in November's elections.

First GOP candidate to announce was Leland Hooker, also of Houghton and a Michigan Tech faculty member.

The general primary election is scheduled Tuesday, Aug. 1. "I am concerned that as the economy of both the state and nation continue to rise, as wages improve and standards of living increase, we in Northern Michigan continue to lag behind," Ruppe said.

Need Cooperation
"I am confident that through the cooperative effort of government, industry and education we can realize our full share of this progress. Cooperative public and private effort can and must be directed toward the needs of the future, not the problems of the past."

"My experience both as a member of organized labor and as a businessman has convinced me that living wages, job security and the opportunity to obtain the finest possible education are essential if we are to prepare ourselves for the future."

A native of Laurium, Ruppe received his grade school and high school education in Michigan and Connecticut and later attended Central Michigan University and the University of Michigan. He graduated from Yale University in 1948, at which time he was commissioned an ensign in the Naval Reserve.

He served as Michigan Industrial Ambassador for two years, and as president of the Copper Country Vacationist League from 1963 to 1965. He is a past director of the Houghton Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruppe are the parents of five daughters and live on Woodland Road, Houghton.

He was named president of the firm in 1959, holding his title until the company was sold last year.

Washington's Reputation

"Treacherous in private friendship and a hypocrite in public life" was the verdict of one eminent American. Thomas Paine, pamphleteer and patriot was delivering what he probably sincerely believed to be final judgment on George Washington.

That the first chief executive was the target of scathing attack in his own time is a fact of American history largely forgotten by all historians. But fact nonetheless. Political hatchmen of any time would be hard put to match the abuse heaped upon this least political of presidents.

Washington himself, writing in the last year of his presidency to Thomas Jefferson, complained that the partisan press referred to him in "such exaggerated and indecent terms as could scarcely be applied to a Nero, a notorious defaulter, or even a common pick-pocket."

Yet the Washington reputation not only survived, it has grown through the years. While the debunking school of historians has been industriously cutting down to size other greats of America's early years, recognition of Washington's indispensable contributions to the fledgling nation has become clearer, respect greater.

Why? He certainly lacked the intellectual brilliance of Jefferson, the political and economic genius of Hamilton. He was not a great speaker or writer, not one to fire men with his words. He would be considered dull, unimaginative today. Why should this sober, even stuffy, country gentleman be revered as have few other presidents?

It is simply that because without Washington there would have been no country, no subsequent presidents.

Holding Wage Lines

One of the President's big problems at home is the growing disenchantment of big labor with his administration. The President's position may be good for the country, but it has created a widespread bitterness among union leaders and they've become increasingly vocal in their criticism of him and are now mentioning him by name.

The President, with all his political antennas up to catch the critical sparks, sent Secretary of Labor Wirtz down to Miami Beach to talk privately with members of the executive council of the AFL-CIO in advance of Wirtz's address to the union convention on Tuesday.

Labor's biggest gripe is over the White House and Senate handling of this year's effort to repeal Section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Act. It permits states to enact right-to-work laws, which prohibit compulsory membership in a union as a condition of employment. Nineteen states have enacted such laws.

Republican Senator Dirksen led the fight against repeal of 14(b) but he had help from some Democratic senators. The President has very strong control over the Democrats—the House more than the Senate—but not enough to overcome the anti-union bent of their Southern wing. And if the President is in trouble with labor over 14(b) he will certainly be in more trouble with development of more administration plans affecting labor.

These fall in two main categories:

1. Keeping the lid on wages to avoid inflation.
2. Controlling strikes that cripple the country, or even parts of it.

The administration set up a guideline for labor and industry to control inflation. It calls for pay and price increases of not more than 3.2 per cent. This is the estimated gain in productivity and hence not inflationary.

The President prevented the steel, aluminum and copper industries from raising prices while putting no similar restraint on labor, whose pay increases were a chief cause of the price boosts. The administration has got to face this problem eventually or be exposed as vote-oriented toward labor and against industry and ineffectual in inflation control.

Yet when it tries to curb demands it gets a blast like that of C. J. Haggerty of the AFL-CIO's Building and Construction Trades Division, who said "We don't like the guidelines when they are imposed on one segment of the economy. Why pick on the building trades at this time?"

Haggerty knows why. In New Jersey the Operating Engineers Union and the General Contractors Association had agreed on an increase of 65 cents an hour (17.7 per cent increase vs. the administration wage guideline of 3.2 per cent) and then reopened the negotiations. The reopening, according to a contractors' spokesman, was because the union head had increased his demand to 85 cents an hour increase.

Even the lesser increase of 17.7 per cent would increase the operating engineers wage from $5.17 to $6.08 an hour in the first year and in the third year several categories of engineers would get $8.95 an hour.

The public interest area in the controversy appears when such an increase in construction costs is translated into public spending. It would mean that the President's proposed increase of $135 million in planned outlay of $1.2 billion for the federal highway program would have to be raised to $247 million just to cover the wage costs in this particular contract.

The nation, failing restraint by unions, must find a way to restrain wage increases or face inflation that will nullify wage gains. It must also find a way to control strikes like the recent subway and bus workers strike in New York City, which tied the world's greatest city in knots to force a wage increase that goes far beyond the administration's guideline. The President was silent on that one when his voice could have been influential, and then critical after a settlement.

While the unions hold veto power on government action to preserve the economy and order, to say nothing of convenience, there is always a threat of serious economic disruption. The nation will be reluctant to deny workers the right to strike for ends that cannot be reached by agreement, but a chaotic situation is developing in which relatively small work forces, strategically related to the general economy, can disrupt the employment and income of millions and use the disruption as a club to gain their demands. This suggests that the public has no rights when they counter those of a union. The Taft-Hartley Act copes with this problem, but not effectively enough.

So Labor Secretary Wirtz is reported working on some new laws which would give the President greater power to decide whether a strike is creating a national emergency and to order restraint to work pending an emergency board's processing of the controversy. The suggested plan would bypass the present federal court action under Taft-Hartley.

Washington A Guerrilla

By ROELIF LOVELAND

Anyone who considers guerrilla warfare, such as that going on in Viet Nam, as something new facing our fighting men is mistaken by at least a couple of centuries.

George Washington was a pretty fair guerrilla fighter. He learned the trade from the American Indians long before the Revolutionary War and later utilized some of the hard lessons he was taught when he was fighting to establish this nation's independence.

The redskins knew it wasn't a smart idea to stand up in plain sight in parade-ground formation, sporting bright red jackets, as the admittedly brave, but foolish, British did. Far better to get behind a tree or rock and let the enemy have it — a technique in which the Colonials already had had considerable experience by the time Concord and Lexington rolled around.

Take the most famous example, which occurred in 1755 during the French and Indian War, when France and Britain were contending for dominance in North America.

British General William Braddock started out to capture Fort Duquesne, an unfinished British fort taken over by the French on the present site of Pittsburgh, Pa. He was accompanied by Washington, a colonel in the Virginia militia, who had been over this route the summer before and had been forced to withdraw by the French after attempting a stand at Fort Necessity.

Braddock unfortunately committed the cardinal error of not sending out enough scouts. Ten miles from his objective he was ambushed by some 900 French and their Indian allies. Still in column formation and flanked on both sides, the British and Colonials lost 714 men. More than half the total force was killed or wounded, including 63 of the 89 officers.

Braddock was valiant — he had four horses shot out from under him — but he was mortally wounded and died four days later. Washington assisted in the retreat and added to his reputation as a cool leader under fire. He later wrote of the debacle:

"The folly and consequence of opposing compact bodies to the sparse manner of Indian fighting in woods, which had in a manner been predicted, was now so clearly verified that from hence forward another mode obtained in all future operations."

In other words, Braddock's textbook advance had made him a sitting duck.

Anyone hopeful of discovering a whole pocketful of guerrilla tactics encountered or employed by Washington is doomed to failure, however. Biographies about the Father of His Country mention no bear traps buried in the forest, no sharpened stakes, no booby traps.

But they do reveal a man who could sleep safely in the snow while the man next to him froze all his fingers and toes, who knew that a little whiskey and a few presents performed miracles in promoting amicable relations with Indians, who found out that a man could last a long time on short rations and that gentlemen with drill manuals didn't win guerrilla wars.

Most important of all, for his subsequent role as Commander-in-Chief of the Continental Army, he learned the value of innovation — the ability to seize opportunity, to put the enemy off-balance, to make the most of whatever advantage he had.

Washington's appreciation of the element of surprise is perhaps best exemplified by the successful use he put it to on the night of Dec. 24, 1776, when he crossed the ice-filled Delaware River, which common sense said couldn't be crossed, and whipped the Hessian garrison in Trenton.

The British were outraged. No gentleman would attack on Christmas Eve while decent men were taking their ease!

Then, as now, atrocities were part and parcel of guerrilla war, a fact apparent to Washington when he wrote after crossing the Alleghenies during the war with the French:

"We met here about 20 warriors who were going to the southward to war, but coming to a place upon the head of the Great Kinnawaway, where they found seven people killed and scalped, all but one woman with very light hair) they turned about and ran back for fear the inhabitants should rise and take them as authors of the murder. They report that the bodies were lying about the house and some of them much torn and eaten by dogs. By the marks which were left, they say they were French Indians of the Ottawa nation, etc., who did it."

One suspects that George Washington, who cautioned against foreign involvement, might change his mind were he alive today. The problems of 1966 are not those of 1776 and today's world has shrunk to postage-stamp size.

Yet, though times and customs and weapons of war change, one thing remains true: The soldier's job, particularly in guerrilla war, is neither a pleasant nor an easy one. It never has been.

LBJ Levels Wrath

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON (AP) — When President Johnson jumped on his critics again in Hawaii, he was not thinking primarily of the highly vocal New Left or even of that professional gadfly, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon.

His principal focus right now is on the fact that he does not have the full support of the two most influential Democrats in the Senate, Senators Mike Mansfield, his majority leader, and J. W. Fulbright, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee.

Their criticisms of the President's policies on Viet Nam are pictured in some administration circles as doing more than anything else to stiffen the resolve of Hanoi to fight on.

The argument is that Hanoi can plausibly believe that serious criticisms from such important men will ultimately have a weakening effect on the President's own resolve to prosecute the war.

Criticisms dignified by the Mansfield-Fulbright influence are thus seen as underscoring the already strongly held view in Hanoi that sooner or later the United States will tire of the conflict and get out.

Fulbright, whose private comments on present policy are said to be bitter, might be a little astonished at the tone and direction of some comment on the other side. His concern for the "human rights" of the beleaguered Vietnamese is being bracketed with his many negative votes on domestic civil rights legislation.

Unionization Is Stake In Debate

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A trucking company executive has agreed to debate an aide of Teamster Union President James R. Hoffa, with unionization of his company at stake.

Sidney Alterman, president of Alterman Transport, Inc., will face national Teamsters' Representative Lawrence N. Steinberg in debates at Miami and Orlando, where the company has major depots.

A secret ballot by 600 workers will follow. If they back the union leader's arguments, the company will be unionized. If they support Alterman's views, the Teamsters will drop efforts to organize the company's employees.

"I am doing this because I believe in the voice of the people," said Alterman, whose company has depots throughout Florida and Georgia.

He said ground rules for the debates are being drawn up. They probably will be held in March.

Smith New Chief Of Coast Guard

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has named Rear Adm. Walter J. Smith, a native of Suttons Bay, Mich., as the new commandant of the Coast Guard.

The President said he intends to nominate Smith to the full rank of admiral.

Smith, former commander of the Coast Guard Academy, now is commandant of the 9th Coast Guard District at Cleveland, Ohio. In his new position, he succeeds Adm. Edwin J. Roland, who retires May 31.

The Doctor Says: Ann Landers

Margo Landers Blasts Advice

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt
A child is bowlegged if, when he stands with his ankles together, his knees are separated as much as the width of his (not your) fist. Some bowing is normal in a child who is under 1-year-old and may be caused by his sleeping on his stomach with his feet turned in. Sleeping on the stomach should be encouraged, but the legs should not be rotated inward.

In an infant who is just learning to walk bulky diapers may cause some bowing and in an older child sitting with his foot curled up under him will favor bowlegs. These children usually walk pigeon-toed. They must be taught to walk with their feet parallel and to sit properly. In most of these children the condition is quickly outgrown.

Bowing is also frequently seen in true dwarfs (not midgets).

A generation or two ago bowlegs associated with rickets was common but in most children today this is prevented by vitamin D and sunshine. A few children, however, have a type of rickets which is inherited and in which the body is unable to utilize this vitamin normally (vitamin-resistant rickets). This condition is diagnosed by finding a low level of phosphorus in the blood.

It is treated by giving very large doses of vitamin D. The dosage must be carefully regulated by a check of the urine calcium level every three to five days. Otherwise there is great danger of vitamin D poisoning. In a few cases an operation to straighten the bowed bones may be necessary.

Q—My 8-month-old son gets attacks of croup at least once a month. What treatment would you suggest?

A—If the attacks occur during cold weather make sure there is no draft in your son's sleeping room. During the attack, prop him up in bed. The time-honored croup kettle will help only if it generates enough steam to warm and moisten the air he breathes so, for quick results, use a sheet to form a tent over the kettle and his head, but be careful not to let him inhale the steam directly. Use plain water in the kettle. Your son will outgrow the attacks by the time he is four and perhaps much sooner.

Q—Is it all right for a mother to smoke a cigarette at the same time she is nursing her baby?

A—The amount of nicotine that would reach the baby through his mother's milk is negligible but there is always the danger that ashes might drop off and burn the baby. If you refrain from smoking while nursing your baby you will still have many hours left in which to smoke.

Former President Eisenhower, in his White House memoirs acknowledges that he and his Senate leader, William Knowland of California, differed materially on foreign issues and one or two other matters. He describes Knowland as "hypersensitive" in defending Senate authority and prestige.

For a few stormy days in early 1944, Franklin D. Roosevelt faced the resignation of his Senate leader, the late Alben Barkley of Kentucky. Barkley was enraged when Roosevelt vetoed a tax bill in terms the senator thought demeaning of Congress. He actually did resign but was mollified by a conciliatory presidential letter.

No leadership opposition was more stunning than that provided by the celebrated speaker of the House, Thomas Reed of Maine, at the time of the controversial U. S. assault upon the Philippines in President McKinley's first term.

Reed was so adamant in protest against U. S. war policy that he retired from the House in 1900, rather than fight on in a losing cause.

Dear Mother: I have never written you a letter before because in the years when I've wanted advice you were in the next room. I am not writing for advice today, however. I am writing to tell you that you gooted. And in an area I know something about. Sitters.

You told a young mother, whose good friend helped her out of a tough spot by generously offering the name of her prize sitter, that it was O. K. to call that sitter for future sitting dates. You said it wasn't necessary to check first with her benefactor to learn if she needed the sitter herself on that particular night.

Sorry, Mother, but it's the unwritten law of the jungle that a sitter provided by a friend in an emergency is NOT fair game. The woman who booked the emergency sitter for three straight Saturdays dealt her benefactor a low blow. I'm shocked that you condone such tactics.

It's a good thing you no longer need sitters, Mother, because if this is your idea of justice I would pass on to you the names of MY sitters. — YOUR DAUGHTER MARGO

Dear Margo: It's bad enough when strangers clobber her, but to be hauled up short by my own daughter! Oh, sharper than a serpent's tooth.

Your talk about the jungle makes me shudder. I thought I brought you up in a home. But then maybe the world has changed since I was a young mother and needed sitters.

Perhaps I should have added this thought: If the benefactor makes it plain that the sitter is "just for this once," the befriended mother should, of course, not try to engage her for future dates. If no such stipulation is made, I say a sitter should not be considered private property. Maybe I should encourage you to groom out sitters in any way you can, because if you ever get stuck, kiddo, I know who's going to be drafted. Your father!

The clean-up man is 71. He insists that a man's sex urges do not slow down regardless of age.

Today in History
Today is Monday, February 21, the 52nd day of 1966. There are 313 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1909, the "Great White Fleet" of the U.S. Navy sailed into Hampton Roads, returning from the first around-the-world voyage by any American battle force. The voyage was President Theodore Roosevelt's dual plan — to give the fleet unique training and to show the world the power that had defeated Spain.

On this date
In 1883, Samuel F. B. Morse gave the first public demonstration of his telegraph.

In 1885, the Washington Monument was dedicated in the capital.

In 1901, the Republic of Cuba adopted its first constitution.

In 1916, the World War I battle of Verdun began.

In 1944, Tokyo admitted a shakeup in the Japanese high command.

Ten years ago — A grand jury in Montgomery, Ala., indicted 115 Negroes for participating in a boycott against Montgomery buses.

Five years ago — The Security Council authorized the U.N. command in the Congo to use force, if necessary, to prevent civil war.

One year ago — Malcolm X, militant leader of a Negro extremist group, was shot to death at a meeting of his followers in New York.

Kenosha Idles 15,000 Workers

KENOSHA, Wis. (AP)—American Motors Corp. began a two week suspension of automobile production today because it is producing more cars than it can sell.

The layoff will effect about 9,500 production workers in Kenosha and 4,700 in the Milwaukee body plant. There are 15,000 production workers employed at the two plants.

The layoff, announced last Monday, was expected to balance inventories with sales, according to William V. Luneberg, vice president for automobile manufacturing in Detroit.

Laid off workers will be called back March 7.

It was the second recent shutdown by AMC. Last Dec. 23 the firm suspended production for 13 working days. Some 15,000 production workers were laid off for the period and 2,400 workers were laid off indefinitely.

Scotland Yard Hunts Hoaxer

LONDON (AP)—Scotland Yard's special branch launched a hunt today for a hoaxer who tried to terrify Britain with a false report of a radioactive cloud drifting along the east coast.

The hoax was quickly discovered. The Home Office denounced it as "dangerous and irresponsible... with no foundation of truth."

It ordered an investigation by the special branch, which deals with political offenses and espionage.

Pacific War Leader Nimitz Dies Sunday

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The late James V. Forrestal, while secretary of the Navy, once asked his chief of naval operations whether an officer convicted by a court-martial ever had risen to flag rank.

"You're looking at one," replied Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, who commanded the most powerful fleet in history during World War II.

As a young officer, the soft-spoken Texas had indeed been found guilty and reprimanded by a Navy court—for running a destroyer aground in Manila Bay.

The admiral, who died Sunday at 80, commanded a thousand ships and two million men during the battles leading to the surrender of Japan. He was the last of the five-star admirals.

Nimitz was jumped over 24 senior admirals to become commander in chief of the Pacific fleet after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941.

His high command spanned the Navy's greatest days—at Coral Sea, Midway, Guadalcanal, Leyte Gulf and finally the Japanese surrender in Tokyo Bay, where he signed the agreement as U.S. representative.

Th battle off Midway, June 6, 1942, in which the Japanese lost four carriers and a heavy cruiser, was the turning point of the Pacific war, in the admiral's opinion. The Japanese offensive power sank with those carriers.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky may become the first member of a regional atomic resources authority established last Friday by the Midwestern Governors' Conference.

Chester W. Nimitz

Sukarno Ousts Military Chief

SINGAPORE (AP)—President Sukarno ousted armed forces chief Abdul Haris Nasution as Indonesia's defense minister today, Radio Jakarta reported.

It was Nasution who led the Indonesian army in crushing the Communist uprising last October.

He is known as an implacable foe of communism, long having kept communists out of Indonesia's Cabinet. He became defense minister in 1963 after years of leadership in the army.

Nasution guided the trials of Communist party leaders charged with staging the attempted coup against the government last Oct. 1.

At his trial last week, Communist leader Njono said one reason the Indonesian Communists attempted their coup was that a council of army generals planned to take over the government. The army denied this.

At one time, Nasution 46, was considered Sukarno's heir apparent, but they split over the October coup attempt. Sukarno tried vainly to restrain Nasution and the army in their campaign against the Communists.

Trained Forces All Committed

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's armed services have almost exhausted their trained and ready military units, with all available forces spread dangerously thin in Viet Nam and elsewhere, the New York Times said today.

Hanson W. Baldwin, military affairs expert of the Times, wrote that this is the conclusion of a study he made of United States Regular and Reserve forces.

The story also said in part: Virtually all the combat-ready units in the United States have been committed to Viet Nam. And except for a few Army and Marine battalions and a few squadrons of the Tactical Air Command, no more units will be fully trained and equipped for a number of months.

Up To Court

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Marine Corps recruiting Sgt. Clifton Hix is waiting for a court to decide whether he is a federal employee.

He refused to pay a $5 overtime parking fine on grounds that as a federal employee he was exempt. City Court Judge Grady Ruff disagreed and ruled Hix had to pay.

The sergeant appealed to Christian Circuit Court, which will hear the case March 11.

Labor Bosses Question Wirtz

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz is due for a grilling by the nation's top labor leaders on President Johnson's efforts to hold down wage demands which the White House considers inflationary.

AFL-CIO officials, who have long denounced White House wage guidelines, reportedly will charge that the Johnson administration used a racial discrimination suit in an effort to pressure high-wage construction unions into moderating pay increases.

Wirtz, who has had no known preliminary talks here about growing labor complaints against Johnson, told a newsman he would talk about anything the AFL-CIO Executive Council wants to bring up.

Wirtz appears today before the opening session of the council, the policy-making body of the politically potent labor federation which has more than 13 million members in 129 affiliated unions.

Wirtz said his closed-door discussions with the 29-member Executive Council will be informal.

AFL-CIO President George Meany and other council members also will discuss with Wirtz their demands for an increase in the federal minimum wage from $1.25 to $1.40 this year, $1.60 next year, and $1.75 in 1968. This is one subject on which the labor leaders feel Wirtz agrees with them.

Federation officials fear Johnson may follow the recommendations of his Council of Economic Advisers for raises to $1.40 this year and $1.70 in 1970, which AFL-CIO sources said would kick off a major war between labor and the Johnson administration.

The toughest questioning Wirtz will face is the construction unions' charge that a federal civil rights suit filed against several building trades unions in St. Louis was part of a move to force them into a formula proposed by Wirtz to limit wage increases. The presidents of 18 construction unions flatly rejected it last week.

The charge by President C. J. Haggerty of the AFL-CIO Construction and Building Trades Department linking the racial discrimination suit to the wage proposal reportedly prompted the White House to assign Wirtz to placate the labor chiefs.

President Johnson reportedly is worried about the possibility of losing much of his Democratic majority in Congress in this year's elections, and lack of political support from labor would increase the chance of big Democratic losses.

The AFL-CIO contributed heavily to Johnson's landslide election victory and that of many other Democrats in 1964.

Called Boycott

The St. Louis civil rights suit charged AFL-CIO construction unions there with violating the equal employment section of the 1964 Civil Rights Act by walking off a project when a Negro contractor and two Negro plumbers were hired.

The Negroes belong to the Congress of Independent Unions, and AFL-CIO officials heatedly insist that the dispute was a routine jurisdictional squabble with no racial overtones.

The civil rights suit came after the National Labor Relations Board had filed a charge against the AFL-CIO unions on grounds that the walkout was a secondary boycott banned by federal labor law.

The dispute involves construction of the St. Louis Arch, a memorial being financed with federal money.

country and of absence of subversion and terror so there can be reasonable expression of the political feeling of the people in Viet Nam.

"We are in favor of that. We are prepared to abide by the result."

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which on Friday concluded televised public hearings into the administration's Viet Nam policies, declined to comment on the Kennedy suggestion.

But committee member Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said Kennedy is "pointing in the right direction in which we will have to go."

Bombing Restrained? Morse, a leading critic of the administration's Viet Nam policies, told a news conference in Harrisburg, Pa., the proposed $4.8-billion Viet Nam military authorization bill contains a "sleeper" that could escalate the war.

In other top developments: —Newsweek magazine reported that President Johnson has issued secret orders forbidding U.S. bombers to fly over the northern half of North Viet Nam. The new restraint "represents a severe tightening of restrictions on U.S. pilots compared with those which were in effect before the bombing pause began last Christmas," the magazine said in its current Feb. 28 issue. There was no immediate comment from the White House.

Soapy Expects Youth Support

DETROIT (AP)—Former Gov. G. Mennen Williams says he expects support from the younger set if he runs for political office from Michigan again.

"I'm confident I have as much chance as the next man to win the 18-year-old vote," Williams said Saturday.

Williams spoke in an interview before testifying in favor of extending the vote to 18-year-olds at a legislative hearing. Michigan's legal voting age is 21.

Williams, 54, and Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh, 37, are possible candidates for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate if Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, the incumbent, decides against trying for a third term.

An opinion has been heard in political circles that Williams might be at a disadvantage among younger voters in view of his absence from Michigan political office in recent years.

Williams got applause from young people attending the legislative hearing. The hearing was conducted by Rep. Daisy Elliott, D-Detroit, chairman of the House Committee on Revision and Amendment of the Constitution.

GOP Choice For Senate Will Woo State's Labor

ence" in the candidate race, and would maintain a "hands off" policy until after the Aug. 2 primary.

Fast Worker
The selection of the youthful Traverse City attorney climaxed two busy weeks of in-traparty campaigning and politicking.

The Traverse City labor attorney has been in the race less than two weeks. He made his first announcement after party leaders narrowed the field to three potential candidates at a Feb. 4 meeting. The others were Vanderjagt and Augenstein.

Griffin had launched Vanderjagt, a former student for the Presbyterian ministry and former television newsmen on his law and political careers.

Vanderjagt, who plans to run for Griffin's 9th district seat, said in pulling out of the Senate race that the party could hope to win "only if we unite 100 per cent behind one candidate."

He had been in the race less than three weeks—but managed to build up a strong base of support in the party. He asked his new-found backers to support Griffin—which they did.

Augenstein's campaign so far has been based on what he feels is the need for more scientists in government as the two fields become increasingly intertwined.

"If I can't be in a position to make laws, then I should devote my efforts to advising government agencies. I already have the latter," he told the group. He serves as an advisor to several government agencies and does some work for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

"I worked hard to get in this position, and I wouldn't want to jeopardize it by running for some other political office."

First Speech
The campaign starts today. Griffin said after the voting Saturday. A Lincoln Day speech at Three Rivers Saturday became his first campaign speech.

"We will be setting up campaign headquarters in Wayne County soon," he added.

"Our major emphasis will be on and in urban areas," he said, pointing out that he has carried the Democratic stronghold of Muskegon County three times.

"We have great reason to hope for lots of support in the labor and Negro communities," he said. "Wouldn't his coauthorship of the Controversial Landrum-Griffin Labor Act hurt his chances with the labor vote?"

"Oh, a few union leaders might complain, but the rank and file members are protected by it, and support it," Griffin said, adding:

"In the 1960 election, it was made an issue—and I became the first Republican to carry Muskegon County in 14 years."

Assuming a primary victory, whom did he expect to oppose on the November ballot?

"I am rather certain that (former-Gov. G. Mennen) Williams will be the candidate if McNamara retires—and the general opinion in Washington is that he will."

Williams, now assistant secretary of state for African affairs, and Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh have displayed interest in McNamara's seat. The 72-year-old senator said he will announce his plans about April 1.

Labor Act Author
In 1959, Griffin was a leader of the successful fight for legislation requiring secret-ballot union elections and yearly accounting of union funds—the Landrum-Griffin Act.

A year later, Teamster Union President James Hoffa of Detroit and other labor chiefs did their best to knock Griffin out of his Western Michigan seat. But Griffin carried industrial Muskegon County—the first Republican House candidate to do so in 14 years—and has carried it ever since.

Saturday, he told Republican leaders: "Don't be concerned about the Landrum-Griffin Act. There's nothing antilabor about protecting union members."

FAW Leader Opposed
It was a different stance from that of Leonard Woodcock, vice president of Auto Workers Union, who said earlier this month Democrats would oppose Griffin perhaps harder than any other potential GOP Senate candidate.

Griffin, who has never shied away from campaigning in labor halls, says union members also should be reached through service organizations, parent-teacher associations and anyplace else. He's quick to tell them then-Senators John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson voted for the Landrum-Griffin Act.

"We don't want to treat union members as a block or a group," he declared Saturday, standing on tiptoe to appear taller over the rostrum. "We want to treat them as individual American citizens and seek their votes on that basis alone."

He acknowledges he'll start as an underdog whether the Democratic nominee is McNamara—whom many expect to retire—former Gov. G. Mennen Williams or Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh.

Demos Oust LBJ Critic

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown survived a walkout of angry delegates and won the California Democratic Council's endorsement, but his victory left scars of intraparty conflict.

Hard feelings, touched off by debate over the Viet Nam war, were evident Sunday as about 200 delegates left the hall when Brown asked the convention of the nation's largest volunteer political group to back his bid for a third term.

The protesters, a minority of the 1,860 present, were objecting to the Democratic governor's support of a successful move to force the resignation of council president Simon Casady, a critic of the Johnson administration's Viet Nam policy.

Most delegates remained, and their cheers of, "We want Brown" echoed through the convention hall.

Brown won their support, but got only 874 votes. Dr. Carleton Goodlett, a San Francisco Negro newspaper publisher who hasn't even declared his candidacy, received 289 votes. Officials said 630 delegates abstained.

The battle showed the unpredictability of the 14-year-old grass roots group, with a membership of more than 30,000.

After denying Casady a vote of confidence Saturday, members replaced him with a San Francisco attorney, Gerald Hill, 36, who favors negotiations in Viet Nam with the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front—"under United Nations auspices."

The convention shouted approval of a policy statement favoring such talks.

Casady's foes didn't object to his antiwar stand, but denounced him for "making vituperative attacks on the people with whom he disagrees," including President Johnson.

ANSWER: Aside from the usual qualities you'd look for in anyone with whom you transacted important business, probably knowledge of the business would be the most important factor. Insurance is so complex in these days that the agent who really knows his business can be of great help to his clients.

Bomb Incident Stirs Debate

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Rep-
erussions over the U. S. nuclear bomb that went astray
after a plane crash in southeast
Spain a month ago have substituted here, but the incident continues to stir controversy elsewhere.

The crash of the nuclear-armed U. S. B52 bomber came up at the 17-nation disarmament conference in Geneva Thursday when the Soviet Union charged such flights violated the 1963
Moscow limited nuclear test ban treaty.

The Strategic Air Command's bomber had been on an alert flight from a base in North Carolina.

Eleven crewmen died when the bomber and a refueling plane collided over Palomares
Beach on Jan. 17. The B52 dropped four unarmed nuclear weapons. Three were found but the fourth has eluded an extensive search on land and sea.

Bomb Recovered?
There has been speculation in recent days that search crews have recovered the missing bomb, but U.S. officials have made no announcement.

About 5,000 U.S. Navy and Air Force personnel were involved in the search, along with Spanish police and other authorities.

Searchers found radioactivity in the land area where most of the bomber's wreckage fell. It was theorized—but never officially confirmed—that an arming device on one bomb had been knocked loose and some contamination, slight but measurable, escaped.

Spanish nuclear technicians and U.S. nuclear experts confirmed that the accident caused no danger to health or public safety.

Gen. Francisco Franco's government ordered that no more nuclear bombers could be re-fueled over Spain and no more planes carrying nuclear bombs could enter Spain's airspace or territory.

Search Praised
The United States shifted its routine and ordered refuelings to be conducted over international waters.

The arrival of two midjet submarines in early February gave the searchers the tools they needed to recover wreckage on the sea bottom. More than 100 objects previously identified by sophisticated detection devices were picked up. No one would say if any of these was the missing nuclear weapon—unofficially described as a 20-megaton H-bomb.

After the first reaction to the nuclear accident—the first of its kind outside the United States—Spanish and U.S. official relations appeared to resume their usual harmony. The Spanish minister of information praised the thoroughness of the U.S. recovery program.

Car Insurance Bills Offered

LANSING (AP)—A House
Democrat has introduced two new bills designed to help motorists keep their auto insurance coverage.

Rep. Albert Kramer, D-Oak
Park, put in measures setting rules for cancellation of policies and establishing a fund to pay claims against insolvent insurers.

Under the bill on cancellation, insurance companies would be required to notify a policy holder 20 days in advance of reasons for the cancellation.

Once a policy had been in effect 30 days, it could be cancelled only if it were learned the policy holder had given false information, was subject to a major mental or physical disability, had his operator's license suspended or had an accident or criminal record such that his driving would endanger the public safety.

The proposed motor vehicle liability security fund would be financed by a one per cent charge to insurers on the total amount of premiums written.

MARQUETTE — Philip H. Wilkie, son of Wendell Wilkie, will be a guest at Northern Michigan University Monday to receive the first copy of a biography of his father written by Dr. Ellsworth Barnard, professor of English at NMU.

The book, "Wendell Wilkie: Fighter for Freedom," one of a series being published by the Northern Michigan University Press, will be circulated nationally.

Wendell Wilkie, Republican candidate for the U.S. presidency in 1940, was a champion of world government and of equality among men.

While on the NMU campus

Monday, Philip Wilkie will address students in the class in History of Western Civilization at 9 a.m. in Kaye Auditorium. Other students and guests are welcome. Wilkie will also present a public lecture at 8:15 p.m. in University Center. His general topic will be his father's place in American history. The lecture will be followed by a reception and refreshments.

Philip Wilkie, an attorney in Rushville, Ind., received his bachelor of arts degree from Princeton University, his master's degree from Harvard University, and his law degree from Columbia University. He has served as chairman of the Council for the Advancement of Small Colleges since 1958.

Dr. Barnard, a native of Massachusetts, has been on the NMU faculty since 1957. He received his BS degree from the University of Massachusetts and his MA and Ph. D. degrees from the University of Minnesota.

Goods Orders Reach Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—New orders of durable goods manufacturers reached record highs during January, up a seasonally adjusted 2 per cent from December, the Commerce Department said Friday. The total was put at $23.6 billion.

Increased orders were primarily centered in defense products, mainly for communications equipment and in the aerospace industries, the department said.

Almost all other industry groups reported seasonal declines from last month's peak, but the department added the backlog of unfilled orders reached $63.5 billion at the end of January on a seasonally adjusted basis, an increase of about $900 million for the month. Outstanding orders were about $9.2 billion above January 1965.

Nuclear Energy Key To Space Says Seaborg

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, says "nuclear energy holds one key to our ultimate success in space."

The AEC, he said, is cooperating with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in developing a 5,000-megawatt nuclear engine for use in rockets.

"What we are attempting to make is a flyable compact reactor, little larger than an office desk, that will produce more than twice the power of Hoover Dam and achieve this power from a cold start in a matter of minutes," he said at the University of Texas.

Ore 'Mountains' Grow On Range

MARQUETTE—New "mountains" are springing up out of the ground on the Marquette iron range—mountains of iron ore.

Recently built plants at Palmer, Humboldt and Republic are turning out the marblesized pellets in hill-sized volume to meet the increasing demand in steel mills.

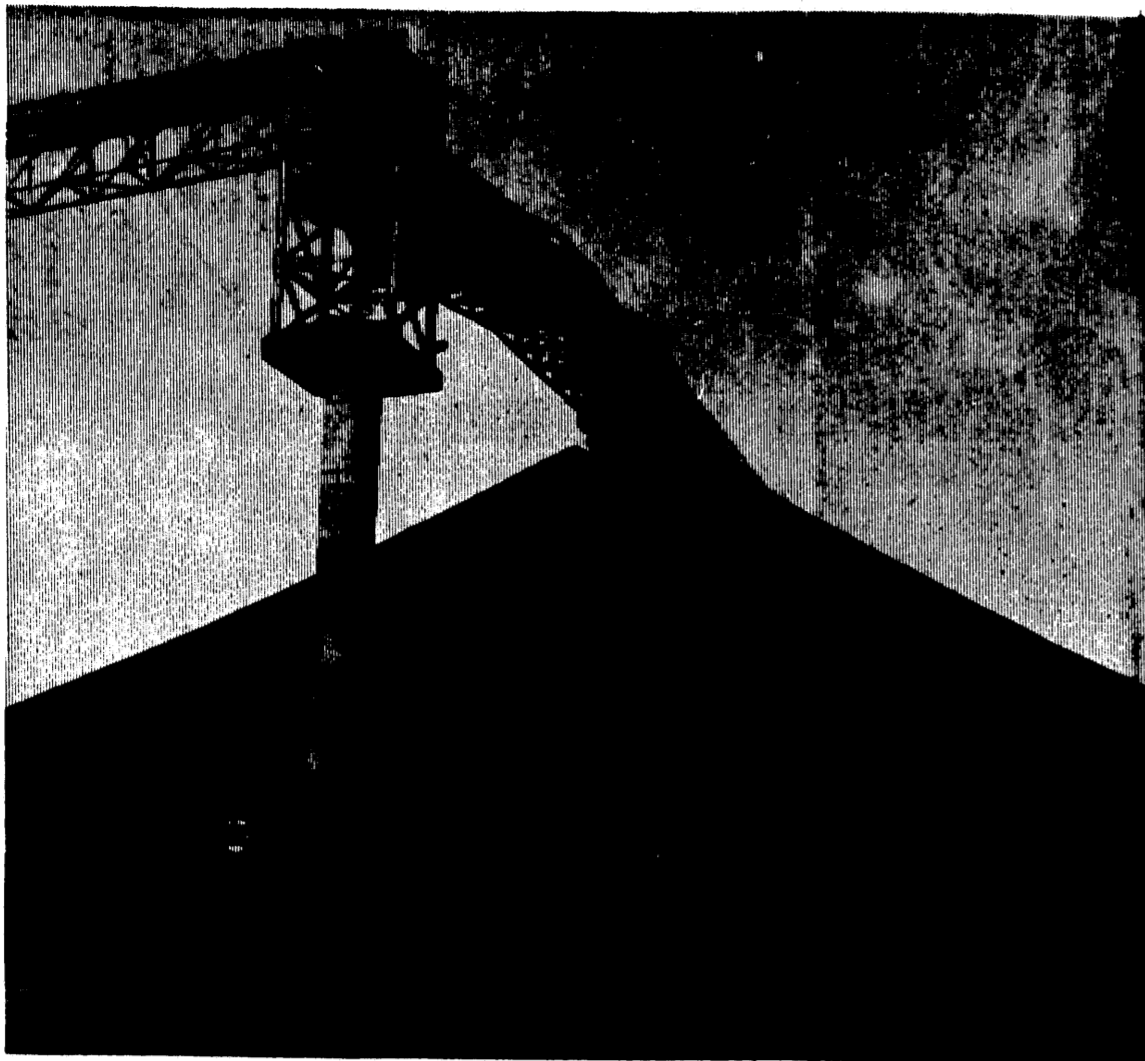

The stepped-up demand for pellets has led to year-around shipment, by rail during winter and ship during the summer navigation season.

Already this winter the Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railroad has moved over 160,000 tons of pelletized ore via unit trains, according to yardmaster Albert Marietta of Ishpeming. This winter is the first that LS&I has continued ore shipments throughout the winter.

During February and March last year the railroad shipped over 50,000 tons of pellets to steel mills at Aliquippa, Pa., and more than 51,000 tons to the Ford River Rouge mill.

Shipments this year began Dec. 6 and the railroad runs daily trains averaging 45 cars from the yards at Eagle Mills to Doty near Shingleton in Alger County. Manistique & Lake Superior Railroad Co. locomotives pickup the train there and bring it to Manistique, where it is taken across Lake Michigan by the Ann Arbor car ferry.

Ann Arbor and Detroit, Toledo & Ironton Railroad Co. locomotives take over at Frankfort for the trip to River Rouge.

NEW "MOUNTAINS" are rising among the rugged hills of the Marquette Range and mounds of iron-rich pellets are being manufactured in increasing numbers. Scene above is at the Empire Mine at Palmer.

Kuich Picked By Schoolmen

A member of the Menominee Board of Education, Edward Kuich, was elected president of the Upper Peninsula Association of School Board Members and Superintendents at Marquette on Saturday.

Ralph McGeary, a member of the Board of Education of the Flat Rock Public Schools, and Luther Barrett, superintendent of the Escanaba Area Public Schools, were elected directors of the Association to fill vacancies. McGeary's term is for one year and Barrett's for two years.

The incumbent director is Glen Gough of Pickford, whose term extends until 1969.

Joseph B. Gueky, superintendent of the Stephenson Public Schools, served as chairman of the nomination committee.

National Guard Strength Gains

Company E of the Michigan National Guard at Gladstone, which was depleted by transfer of many of its men to a new "super ready" reserve unit at Sault Ste. Marie in November, is rapidly nearing full strength again, according to Capt. George Anderson, company commander.

Anderson said recent enlistments have brought the company strength to about 67 men, only 10 under authorized strength of 77.

Transfers in November had cut the unit to about 35 men.

Company E, which is the bridge unit of the 107th Engineer Battalion, will begin regular training March 8, with longer hours and more practical exercises. Outdoor assemblies, including rifle training, firing and infantry tactics, are planned as soon as weather permits.

The annual federal inspection is scheduled March 31.

Most recent enlistments are Frank Destrampe, Tom Anderson, Bernard Hoefgren, Bruce Virgo, Dan Stratton and Robert Myers of Escanaba; Theodore Dahlstrom, Gwinnett; Tom Pinar, Wells; Ronald Sundstrom, Bark River; Tom Richer and Joseph St. John, Schaffer; Ernest Haight, Nadeau; John Trotter, Gladstone, and Paul Anderson, Rte. 1, Escanaba.

Pvt. John Derkos has been promoted within the company and has been assigned as company clerk.

Anderson said about 45 of the company's new men have not attended the regular six-months of basic and specialized training. About 900 men throughout Michigan are also waiting to attend camp.

Rabbi Adler's Coma Deepens

DETROIT (AP)—Rabbi Morris Adler, shot by a member of his Shaaray Zedek Synagogue congregation eight days ago, took a turn for the worse Sunday at Detroit's Sinai Hospital. A noon medical bulletin said doctors attending the 59-year-old Rabbi "are not encouraged."

"The coma has deepened and his general responses have not improved despite all intensive supporting measures which are being constantly maintained," the bulletin said.

Rabbi Adler has twice undergone surgery since he was shot Feb. 12 by Richard Wisnietzky, 23, of Detroit, during services at the suburban Southfield Synagogue. Wisnietzky then shot himself. He died a few days later.

O'Brien Moves To Appleton

John A. O'Brien, managing General Agent for Crown Life Insurance Co., of Toronto, will move his office, which has served Upper Michigan for 10 years, to Appleton, Wis., on Friday. His office is on the third floor of the First National Bank Building.

O'Brien said that he would continue to serve the Upper Peninsula and also Northeastern Wisconsin with Crown Life's insurance services, but from his new Appleton office at 604 N. Richmond St., after this week.

In 1967 he said, he plans to open a Crown Life office in Milwaukee. O'Brien introduced Crown Life's services in the Upper Peninsula and in Wisconsin. The firm handles life, group and disability insurance. It started in 1900 and has $5 billion of insurance in force.

The O'Brien family will not move immediately from its home at 1515 17th Ave. S. Timothy and Michael O'Brien are students at Escanaba High School and Colleen is employed in Green Bay, Wis., and Kathleen (Mrs. Charles Meier), lives at Pinebrook, N.J.

The O'Briens came to Escanaba 12 years ago from Iron Mountain.

O'Brien was president of the Kiwanis Club in 1965 and was president of the Central U.P. Association of Life Underwriters in 1960, and in 1961 served as regional vice president of the Michigan Underwriters Association. He has been active in the Republican party and served as U.P. manager for Elly Peterson's 1964 bid for the U.S. Senate.

Grass Fire Adds To Warming Trend In Escanaba Area

The extreme cold forecast by the U.S. Weather Bureau for the Escanaba area over the weekend failed to materialize. Instead there was a warming trend.

Sunday was cold (the high was 15 above) but exactly 15 degrees warmer than the predicted high of zero. The 22 below that had been forecast for Saturday night didn't arrive. Fact is, it was warmer than the night before.

The snowless condition of the countryside brought an inevitable result: Firemen were called out at 9 p.m. Sunday to control a grass fire in a field at 14th Ave. and 23rd St. Grass fires in February set some sort of a record, firemen agreed.

Today was mostly fair and there is a slow warming trend beginning the Weather Bureau reported today. The high on Tuesday will be about 23 degrees and the outlook for Wednesday is increasing cloudiness and a chance of snow.

Briefly Told

The Escanaba Council 646 Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, which had been scheduled to meet on Wednesday, is postponing the meeting because Wednesday is Ash Wednesday.

There will be a YFC Club meeting tonight beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the Salvation Army. The bus schedule is: 6:40 p.m.—Harris, 6:50 p.m.—Bark River, 7:10 p.m.—Pine Ridge and 7:20 p.m.—Webster School. High school and college youth are welcome.

Traffic court summonses have been issued by Escanaba police to Robert Fontaine, 1608 S. 16th St., leaving the scene of a property damage accident; Robert N. LeDuc, 319 Stephenson Ave., disobeying a traffic signal; David J. Moberg, Berkley, Mich., defective head lights; Joseph G. Grenier, 412 S. 8th St., driving left of center; Genevieve L. Nelson, 606 1st Ave. S., disobeying a traffic signal; and Robert F. Nault, 1522 N. 23rd St., speeding.

Richard Rinehart, president of Bay de Noc Community College and Miss Dolores Samson, a member of the faculty, will address the Escanaba Rotary Club at its Tuesday luncheon meeting. Miss Samson is presently conducting a study of vocational needs in Schoolcraft, Delta and Menominee counties. Their report will partially have to do with findings of this study. The Rotary Club meets at the House of Ludington, Tuesday, Feb. 22 at 12:10 p.m.

Aldo Moro To Accept Office

ROME (AP)—Aldo Moro is expected to accept Italy's latest political crisis by accepting the premiership once more.

Moro, a Christian Democrat, has reportedly reached policy agreements with leaders of three other parties expected to join his coalition government.

Those parties—Socialist, Democratic Socialist and Republican—meet today and Tuesday to ratify the agreements.

The only announced appointment to Moro's new Cabinet is that of Amintore Fanfani, who agreed Sunday to return as foreign minister. Fanfani is a longtime political rival of Moro.

Murder Charged To Nephew After Family Squabble

KALAMAZOO (AP)—A Kalamazoo man, charged with first degree murder in the fatal shooting of his uncle Sunday, faces examination March 2.

Malcolm Matthews, 37, stood mute at his arraignment before Municipal Judge Clark M. Olmsted Sunday. He is held without bond.

Police said Matthews allegedly shot his uncle, Vernon Cheney, 50, at a family gathering at the Cheney home early Sunday. Cheney died on the way to the hospital. He suffered a 22 caliber bullet wound in the chest.

Police said witnesses told them the two men got into an argument and Matthews pulled a revolver and shot Cheney.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss... and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment that is not only stopping hair loss... but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Many conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair... now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Heloise:
Here is a helpful hint our neighbor passed on to us, so we are passing it on to you:
After frying hamburgers, put them on buns and place in a plastic bag (such as the ones your buns came in), close the end and let set for five minutes.

The heat will penetrate the buns, and the kids will just love them.

My little brother refused to wash the windows until I put the cleaning solution into one of his squirt guns. Now, he cleans the windows in record time.

He even used a water-filled gun to help Mom dampen the clothes.

Announce Lenten Services At Congregational

Rev. Philip C. Meili, pastor of Rapid River Congregational Church, announces weekly Lenten services will be held at the Rapid River Church Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m. Rev. Meili's first Lenten service, "A Sinful Woman, An Unforgotten Love", will be presented Ash Wednesday, Feb. 23, 7:30 p.m.

The series of Lenten sermons, "Encounters With The Christ", will consider persons who encountered Christ during the last week before His death. Through a study of their reaction to Him, it is hoped we can prepare ourselves more fully for the celebration of the High Holy Days climaxing at Easter.

The Lenten services will offer special musical selections. Mrs. Lavina Moss is church organist. Everyone is welcome.

State's Capitol Has Fire Hazard

LANSING (AP)—Legislators deciding the fate of the 87-year-old Capitol have another fire marshal's recommendation to consider: close the building's top floor until more fire-resistant exits are provided.

The recommendation came despite recent alterations and improvements in the fourth floor, where the Legislative Service Bureau and several legislators have offices.

Det. Glen E. Turner said his recommendations were "necessary and reasonable for the preservation of life, valuable records and the building itself."

Besides the item on the fourth floor, there were 19 other recommendations for major alterations and improvements in this report.

Sunday Drop Kills Skydiver

MONROE (AP) — A young father who loved skydiving plunged 7,500 feet to his death Sunday from an airplane.

Witnesses said he never pulled the ripcord of his parachute after possibly blacking out on his way down toward earth.

Rudy Bulko, 23, of Ecorse, near Detroit, made the fatal plunge from a plane of the Midwest Sport Parachuting Center south of here.

Two other men made successful jumps from the same plane, members of the parachute group said.

Ed Reimer, a witness said Bulko appeared to go into a "flat spin," with his arms and legs outstretched. Reimer watched from the ground.

"It looked like he was trying to come out of the spin before trying to open his chute," Reimer said, "and then he must have blacked out because he was motionless during the rest of his fall."

The plane, a Cessna 185 piloted by Robert McTaggart, president of the parachuting group, was flying over a drop zone at the time.

Bulko's body bounced about 10 feet when he hit the ground and at that moment his parachute opened, witnesses said.

Bulko, an apprentice crane operator at the Ford Motor Co.'s Rouge plant in Dearborn, had made about 20 parachute jumps, friends said.

The young man left his wife, Joyce, 19, and widower father, Rudolph Bulko, 51, grief-stricken. Rudy was an only son.

The Bulko couple and their daughter, Julie Ann, 8 months, lived with the elder Bulko.

"I used to ask him why do you want to do this? Why do you want to jump out of an airplane?" the father said.

The father said Rudy had been getting "reckless" on recent jumps, waiting longer and longer to pull his ripcord.

The Monroe County Sheriff's Department said the Federal Aviation Agency probably will investigate.

A representative of the skydivers group said the organization has been operating five years and had carried out thousands of jumps without serious mishap.

Car Seat Belt Called Dud By Harness Advocate

LEE, N.H. (AP) — A retired millionaire who has devoted years to studying auto safety says the regular seat belt installed in cars "has no protective value."

Andrew J. White, 60, says that in many instances a regular seat belt "reduces the chances for survival in a traffic accident."

"The seat belt leaves the head, the most vulnerable part of the anatomy, to act as a sledgehammer against the windshield and dashboard," said White in an interview.

White recommends instead a harness which he designed and says "is far superior to a regular seat belt."

Wearing one, he drove a car at 50 miles per hour into a two-foot-thick brick wall and he was uninjured.

Hemophiliac Survives Foot Amputation

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A young hemophiliac who risked bleeding to death rather than spend his life in a wheel chair has survived a foot amputation.

University of Michigan Hospital doctors believe it may be the first successful operation utilizing a "freeze-thaw" technique to obtain a concentrate that controls the flow of blood.

The new method was used in removing the right foot of James Gerritsen, 23, of Grand Rapids. Hemophilia is a hereditary disease in which the blood does not clot. Even minor cuts can be extremely hazardous for some hemophiliacs.

Gerritsen has a severe form of classical hemophilia, and his foot had been crippled by recurrent internal bleeding. He was told his only chance to walk again would require amputating the foot and replacing it with an artificial one.

Break Ground

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Ground breaking ceremonies for the University of Michigan's new school of dentistry building will be held Wednesday. The dental school complex, to cost $17,294,845, is the largest single project ever undertaken by the university.

Capital Obelisk Gets Vacuumed For Birthday

WASHINGTON (AP) — They vacuumed the inside of the Washington Monument this week — just in time for George Washington's birthday.

It was the monument's semi-annual interior cleaning, a time for picking up the dust that two million tourists leave behind each year in the 555-foot-high granite shaft. The monument in 1964 had its first exterior cleaning in 30 years.

Joseph P. Eaglin, monument supervisor, estimates his men cart out two 20-gallon cans of dust each week.

But this week's thorough cleaning included the monument's entire interior — not just the 896 steps and the landings which are cleaned daily.

40 Men Clean
For the day and one-half of cleaning the monument was closed to the public. The only visitors were the workmen — 20 on each shift — cleaning from 6 p. m.

Twice each year National Park Service workers repaint the benches, the ground floor room where visitors await the elevator for the one-minute ride to the top and the observation deck.

Also, they wash the elevator shaft and roof and erase the crayoned remembrances visitors have left behind.

Radioactive Stone
Special attention is given to the 190 memorial stones that line the inside of the drafty monument's walls. Donated by states, organizations and individuals, they are favorite targets of the crayon wielders.

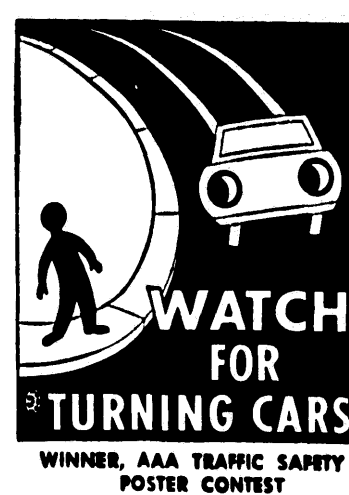

The only tourists who see most of the memorial tablets are those who use the stairs — and most ride the elevator.

Anybody who gets to the top, however, can see a stone from the ruins of ancient Carthage. It was found seven years ago in a corner of a stair well. It had lain there about 80 years and was to have been set in the wall with the others.

Another stone is slightly radioactive — but not enough to be harmful.

In 1949 a visitor with a Geiger counter found the radioactivity about half way up the monument. It is raw uranium in a memorial stone from Colorado.

The coalfish, sometimes called pollock, is so-called because of its black coloration, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Hair Nets Make Long-Hairs Safe

ANGOLA, Ind. (AP) — Prof. Douglas Barton of Tri-State College, an engineering school, has informed students that they will find a supply of hair nets on hooks outside machine laboratories.

Any students working with machinery will have to wear the nets unless their hair is less than two inches long.

Barton said he was concerned for the safety of "the two or three long-hairs among our 1,800 students."

Sloan Funeral

NEW YORK (AP) — Approximately 500 persons attended Alfred P. Sloan Jr.'s funeral services at Christ Methodist Church Saturday.

Dr. Paul W. Sockman, minister emeritus, said in a eulogy to Sloan that the former General Motors Corp. president was a man who worked hard at both making money and then sharing it with "responsible recipients."

Philanthropist Sloan gave millions to charities.

Sloan, GM's president for 33 years, died Thursday at 90.

C&H Skip Crash Forces 9 Miners To Climb A Mile

CALUMET (AP) — Nine miners at Calumet & Hecla Centennial Mines were forced to climb 5,000 feet to the surface Friday after a mishap in the elevator cage in the No. 2 shaft. Mine officials said the cage, called a "skip," apparently was elevated too far. It tore through the building housing the skip mechanism, breaking pulley stands and damaging the building and other equipment.

Another 16 men, also in the mine at the time, had to climb to the surface but they were working at higher levels.

A total of 85 men was idled by the accident. Officials said the miners would be assigned to other shafts until repairs are completed.

Michigan Big Ten Leader Will Invade Iowa Tonight

By The Associated Press
Mighty Michigan, carrying rave notices from home town critics, takes its basketball show on the road tonight.

The Wolverines, starring Cazie Russell in "Win, Win, Win," or "How I learned to stop worrying and shoot the ball," take on the Hawkeyes at Iowa City.

On the playbill are the Big Ten basketball title and Russell's bid to become the sixth man in conference history to score 1,000 points.

The record-setting Wolverines now stand 8-1 with five games to play. Michigan State and Illinois, both 6-3, are Michigan's closest pursuers.

The Spartans fell two games behind the Wolverines in dropping a 78-77 decision at Wisconsin Saturday. Meanwhile, Michigan set a Big Ten scoring record in dumping Purdue 128-74.

Illinois stayed alive with a 100-89 victory over Minnesota, Northwestern nipped Indiana 83-82 and Iowa broke a road-jinx by beating Ohio State, 86-80, at Columbus.

The Hawkeyes, unbeaten at home, stand about as good a chance as anyone of derailling Michigan, looking for its second straight Big Ten title.

Russell needs only six points to score 1,000. Dave Schellhase of Purdue was the latest to do so, notching a Big Ten record 57 against the Wolverines Saturday.

The all-time conference leader is Terry Dischinger, who notched 1,248 at Purdue from 1960-62. Indiana's Don Schlundt, a pair of Ohio State players, Paul Ebert and Jerry Lucas, where the other 1,000 point career scorers.

Michigan Coach Dave Strack called the Purdue victory a "fun game."

Russell, who topped Michigan with 28 points, added: "I'd rather be on this end than Schellhase's end. We just play team basketball. That's why we're on top."

Schellhase and his Purdue mates were equally elated in defeat. When then the Purdue senior popped in the field goal that set the record his teammates jumped from the bench and applauded.

"I kind of hoped that some day things would drop," said Schellhase, who broke the old mark of 56 achieved twice by Indiana's Jimmy Rayl in 1962 and again in 1963.

"But I was surprised... I don't know when I've hit like that."

Schellhase put in 23 of 42 free shots and 11 of 12 at the foul line.

Purdue, last in the Big Ten with a 2-7 mark, began feeding Schellhase when it was announced he had surpassed the old Yost Fieldhouse record of 43 set by Michigan's John Tidwell in the late 1950's. "Did you ever see a team so happy in defeat?" said Michigan's John Clawson, who scored 27 points before fouling out halfway through the second half.

"I had a lot of fun," added Schellhase. "Our team doesn't have a lot of ability, but we do have a lot of fun."

Michigan shot a blistering 54.2 per cent from the field and had four starters in double figures before halftime.

Capt. Oliver Darden has 21 points and Jim Myers, 22. Michigan State, trailing most of the way, closed the gap to a point late in the game but Wisconsin held on to win.

Stan Washington topped MSU with 28 points. Bill Curtis had 21. Reserve Dave Roberts topped Wisconsin with 16 points.

"They scored the clutch free throws in the last minutes while we were fouling them," summed up MSU Coach John Bennington.

Badger mentor John Erickson had special praise for Washington, saying: "I've never seen Stan Washington play harder than he did today."

Bennington agreed, adding: "Washington played a fantastic game despite feeling low because of a fever."

Don Freeman paced Illinois in the dying seconds to lead Northwestern over Indiana. Jim Burns topped the Wildcats with 26 points, but the Hoosiers' Vern Payne was high for the game with 31.

Iowa started slowly, but roared back to outlast Ohio State. George Peoples led the Hawkeyes with 21 points. Jim Peters and Bob Dove topped OSU with 23 each.

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — One more player signed his 1966 contract with the Detroit Tigers and another was sold Saturday.

Infielder Ray Oyler was the latest to come to terms, leaving just five players on the unsigned list.

First baseman Bill Roman, who battled Norm Cash for the starting job most of last spring, was sold to Jacksonville of the International League with the promise that the parent New York Mets would give him a trial.

Oyler, 27, appeared in 60 games for the Tigers last year, hitting .186 in 194 appearances at the plate. He played all four infield positions and was the regular shortstop for 57 games following a hand injury to Dick McAuliffe.

James A. Campbell, vice president and general manager, explained the Tigers released Roman in hopes he would win a job with the Mets.

"He felt he couldn't win a place with our team and I seriously doubt if we would have been able to convince him to report," Campbell said.

Roman, an employee of an aviation company in Detroit, balked at reporting to Syracuse last year after starting the season with the Tigers. He was later traded to Toledo and hit .299 for the Mud Hens.

"Bill can make it in the major leagues," Campbell said. "The Mets are looking for a backup man at first base and a left-handed pinchhitter. It's all up to him now whether or not he wants to play."

Youngsters from four cities won top honors at the first annual Michigan JayCee skiing championships Sunday.

The four winners will comprise the Michigan team that will compete in the JayCee national meet at St. Paul, Minn., March 5-6.

Duke, Davidson Open Bids For Tourney Berths

By The Associated Press
It's time once again for Duke and Davidson, two of the better college basketball teams in the country, to find out if they once again will be the two best non-champions in the country.

Davidson has held that status for the past two years while Duke strayed into that area last year.

In the case of these two teams, a nonchampion is one that finishes on top of its league in regular-season play but which loses in the league's postseason tournament, thereby missing out on the championship and a berth in the NCAA tournament.

Davidson, loser of only one of 12 Southern Conference contests this season, opens its bid Thursday for the championship that has eluded it the past two years.

Duke, the nation's second-ranked team, has clinched top seeding in the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament with an 11-1 record. The Blue Devils complete their regular schedule this week with league games against Wake Forest and North Carolina.

In the opening Southern Conference game, the Wildcats take on The Citadel, a team they've already beaten twice this season. But based on recent history, that should be no indication of the outcome this time.

Two years ago Davidson lost in the semifinals to Virginia Military 82-81 after stopping VMI twice earlier in the season. Then last year West Virginia, a two-time loser, edged the Wildcats 74-72 in overtime in a semifinal game.

Duke fared only slightly better in the ACC last season, winning two tournament games before losing to North Carolina State 91-85 in the final.

In this year's tournament, March 3-5, the Blue Devils could open against South Carolina, the only conference team to beat them this season.

Both Davidson and Duke won Saturday night, the Wildcats bringing their record to 17-5 with a 77-64 triumph over The Citadel and the Blue Devils making their mark 19-2 by trouncing Maryland 74-69.

Unbeaten Kentucky, the nation's No. 1 team, won its 21st, edging Mississippi State 73-69, while unbeaten Texas Western, No. 3, nipped Pan American 65-61 for its 20th victory and fifth straight squeaker.

All of the other teams in the Top Ten won with No. 10 Michigan bombing Purdue 128-94 despite Dave Schellhase's 57 points.

Campbell Earns First Victory On Golf Trail

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — It took an extra cigar or two, but chunky Joe Campbell has his first pro golf tournament victory in three years.

Campbell, who usually smokes about six cigars a round of golf, puffed his way "through seven or eight" stogies Sunday as he shot a steady 70 and whipped Gene Littler in a sudden-death playoff for the $9,000 first prize in the Tucson Open Golf Tournament.

Campbell finished with steady rounds of 69-70-69-70 for a 10-under-par total of 278 over the giant Tucson National golf course, a wide open desert layout with some of the biggest greens in the country.

Littler, who shot 71-71-68-68—273, won $5,000 for second. R. H. Sikes and brothers Ray and Lionel Hebert each picked up $3,400 for their 280 finishes.

Tommy Aaron, Doug Sanders and George Archer each won $2,316 for their 281 scores.

Campbell's pay check gives him $14,945 in total 1966 money and ranks him fourth behind Arnold Palmer, Sanders and Billy Casper.

Campbell started the final round of the Tucson tourney one stroke behind Jay Hebert, who shot a 65 Saturday to take the lead. Hebert faltered with a double-bogey on the 12th hole and Campbell took the lead until the 18th when he hit into a trap and bogeyed to allow Littler to catch him with a par 4.

Campbell reached the green in two on the first playoff hole, the 545-yard par-5 15th, which was picked for television purposes.

Littler, who was off the side of the green on his second shot, chipped 20 feet past the pin and rimmed an attempt for a birdie putt. Campbell then two-putted from 15 feet, tapping in a one-footer for the clincher.

The 30-year-old, 200-pound Knoxville, Tenn., resident is a former national collegiate champ. He won the NCAA tourney in 1955 while playing at Purdue, where he also was a basketball standout.

Northern Fails In Efforts To Trip Marquette

By The Associated Press
Michigan now boasts a basketball champion in its interstate rivalry.

It's Central Michigan University.

High-riding CMU clinched the championship of the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Association Saturday with a 64-63 squeaker over Eastern Illinois.

Sophomore guard Willie Iverson's free throw in the last nine seconds put the game away for CMU, preventing an upset defeat.

The victory gave CMU a 6-1 IIAA record. Over the last season CMU stands 18-3. Eastern Illinois has lost seven straight in the IIAA. Don Edwards' 19 points led CMU.

Emeralds Crush Rudyard Cagers

MANISTIQUE — The Manistique Emeralds flexed their basketball muscles here Saturday night while pinning a 97-62 defeat on the Rudyard Bulldogs.

Playing before an enthusiastic Parents Night crowd, Coach Rudie Brandstrom's cagers reached their scoring peak in the final home game of the campaign.

In addition to parents of players and cheerleaders, special recognition was given to Athletic Director Bill Cook and his wife, who were introduced prior to the opening tipoff. Cook is retiring after over 40 years as a Manistique coach and teacher.

The Emeralds gave an indication of things to come when they burned the laces with 25 points in the first frame. Rudyard almost stayed with them, scoring 19 points, but the Bulldogs faded in the second frame when the Emeralds stepped up their pace with a 22 point performance. Manistique had a 57-25 budge at halftime and coasted home for its 12th victory in 15 starts this season. The Emeralds will close out the regular campaign Friday night at Munising.

Brandstrom made extensive use of his reserves with 14 players seeing action. Five Emeralds reached double scoring figures, headed by Dave Barton.

Finnish Jumpers Finish One-Two At Suicide Hill

ISHPEMING (AP) — Finland's Harri Jussila won the two weekend skiing championships on Ishpeming's Suicide Hill but had to share honors with an Ishpeming youngster.

Young John Carello leaped 250 feet Sunday for the longest jump of anyone among 75 entries in the two tournaments.

Carello, 19-year-old Italian American, made the 250-footer and another of 202 feet in capturing the junior title in Sunday's 79th annual Ishpeming Ski Club tournament. He is one of Ishpeming's best younger skiers.

Jussila, invited from Finland to compete, won the senior Class A championships of both Sunday's event and Saturday's Paul Bettila Memorial tourney.

The 26-year-old Finn won the Bettila with leaps of 237 and 239 feet and the club tournament by clearing 237 and 234 feet.

Both Jussila and Laiho, who is 19, will take part in a tourney next weekend at Iron Mountain, another Northern Michigan ski-jumping center.

The weather hampered the jumpers here. It was below zero Saturday with tricky winds. Temperatures rose to about 10 above Sunday but there were crosswinds.

Tim Dennison of St. Paul, Minn., won the junior title in the Bettila event with leaps of 210 and 203 feet.

Dick Malvik of Chicago won the Bettila veterans division with leaps of 190 and 185 feet while Don Hiller of Marquette won in Class B with 190 and 196 feet.

Esky Invades Stephenson In Great Northern Clash

Regular Season Ends With Tilts This Week

Thoughts of upcoming district and regional basketball tournaments undoubtedly will be uppermost in the minds of high school players and coaches as they go through the motions of wrapping up regular-season competition in the Upper Peninsula this week.

The final week's play isn't expected to change the top positions gained by these quintets in three and one-half months of cage action:

- Class A — Escanaba (11-4).
- Class B — Ironwood (14-2).
- Class C — Marquette Baraga (16-1), Wakefield (13-3), Crystal Falls (13-3), Hancock (13-3).
- Class D — Trout Creek (17-0), Channing (17-1), DeTour (14-3).

Still to be decided are first-place championships in several conferences.

Most attractive league affairs will send Escanaba to Stephenson in a Great Northern tussle and Crystal Falls to Iron River in a Menominee Range battle.

Stephenson also hosts Kingsford in a second GN engagement and could grab the title if it wins both games.

Crystal Falls, which won its 11th straight game by beating Iron Mountain 80-66, can claim a share of the Menominee Range crown with a victory at Iron River Friday. Iron River, which has lost only three non-league games to Ironwood, Ishpeming and Wakefield, has an overall 13-3 record for the year — identical to the win-loss mark compiled by Crystal Falls.

Hancock, which moved ahead in the Copper Country race by edging L'Anse by one point, can repeat as conference champion by beating Baraga. The Purple Hornets would need victories over Lake Linden and Houghton to finish on top if the Bulldogs falter.

DeTour, idle last week after finally losing to a Canadian Sault team, needs to defeat Cedarville to keep from sharing the Eastern U.P. throne with Sault Lorette.

Top non-league contests in Marquette County will find Gwinn playing at Ishpeming and Marquette, Negaunee and Newberry at Marquette Baraga, and Rapid River at Negaunee St. Paul. The latter two teams are champions of their respective conferences.

The week's schedule:

TUESDAY

Mighty Mite Golf Winner

PANAMA (AP) — Canada's Wilf Homenuik, a 140-pound mighty mite, can be expected to throw his weight around again as the Caribbean golf tour moves on to Bogota, Colombia.

Homenuik won the first stop on the tour that will wind up in Maracaibo, Venezuela, when he won the Panama Open Sunday with a final-round 73 and a 72-hole total of 283.

The victory, by a one-stroke margin over Stan Mosel of Essex Fells, N.J., was worth $2,000 to the little Canadian who shot 68s the first two days of the tournament, then held on with a final pair of 73s.

Defending champion Art Wall was fourth with a 296, one stroke back of Wes Ellis of Caldwell, N.J. Wall, seven strokes back going into the last round, and Ellis, six back, both pulled even with Homenuik before falling back.

Rockets Win Loop Crown

MANISTIQUE — The Rapid River Rockets, their coach sidelined by illness, captured the Central League basketball championship here Saturday by defeating Nahma, 96-45.

Norm Slough, Rapid River principal and a former Rocket coach, took over the reins for Bill McGovern who was flattened by the flu bug Friday. The game was postponed to Saturday and switched to the Manistique High School gym because the Nahma Hall was unavailable.

The Rockets wasted no time in establishing their superiority, blasting off to a 31-15 lead in the first quarter and stretching the margin to 54-28 at halftime.

Slough platooned the Rockets effectively, using his first unit through the first half and the second crew through the second half. It paid off in a balanced scoring performance in which six players reached double figures. The 96 team points was second highest for Rapid River this season.

Topping the scoring column for the Rockets were sophomore Allan Pasi and junior Gene Bezzi with 15 points apiece. Bob Anderson and Tom Nelson tossed in 12 each, Tom Safford 11 and Dick Forslund 10.

The victory gave the Rockets their Central pennant with an 11-1 record. Overall they are 12-5 for the season with one game remaining against Negaunee St. Paul Friday night.

The league championship was the sixth for Rapid River since the Central loop was organized in 1947.

Coach Seb Rubick's Nahma Arrows were led on the scoreboard by Steve Ritter with 12 points and Rick Schafer 10. The loss was their 11th against five victories. Nahma will close out the regular season with a game against Garden Thursday and a home stand against Cooks Friday night.

Boxers Win Four Fights

Escanaba boxers scored four victories and gained a bye in the opening round action of the Fond du Lac district Golden Gloves tournament Saturday night.

Welterweight Wayne Smoot set the pace for the Escanaba scrappers, leveraging a potent jab and left hook into two victories. He decided Glenn Cuts of Pine River in his first appearance and stopped Jerry Monson of Neopit on a second round TKO in his second fight.

Monson was on his feet but in no condition to continue when the referee called a halt at the end of the second stanza.

Mike Weber, 180 pounder, punched out a decision over William Hartzheim of Fond du Lac and Mike Tryan, 112 pounds, outpointed Gerhart Wychesit of Neopit for the other two Escanaba victories. The four winners are novice boxers.

German Miler Sets Record

BERLIN (AP) — The first sub four-minute mile indoors in two seasons belongs to Jurgen May of East Germany.

May ran the mile in 3:58.2 Sunday night and in so doing set an unofficial indoor record of 3:41.9 for 1,500 meters, the East German News Agency said.

ADN also said May's mile time was an unofficial European record. The world indoor mark of 3:56.4 is held by Tom O'Hara of Chicago, who also ran the last sub four-minute mile, in 1964. The best previous indoor effort this season was a 4:00.9 by Oregon's Jim Grelle.

Baseball Brass Proposes Plan For Split Loop

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Though listed along with three other teams as having an open mind about the issue, Detroit Tiger officials Sunday expressed more reasons against than for the proposal to split the American League into two divisions.

The proposal, first made by Cleveland President Gabe Paul, would divide the league into two five-team divisions, shorten the schedule and provide for a playoff to determine the American League's representative in the World Series.

"We have always been in favor of shortening the schedule," said Tigers Vice President Rick Farrell. "But the California teams and Houston are against losing even one game. Of course, they do not have the weather problems we have."

"Under the two-division system, the schedule would be trimmed by nine games for each team (to 153) and allow one week for a playoff," Farrell added.

"One bad thing about this setup is that you could possibly have the sixth best team in the league in the World Series," James A. Campbell, vice president and general manager, pointed out.

"What do you say to your players if you are the manager of the team which finishes with the best record and yet doesn't get a crack at the $10,000 Series money because they lost the playoff?" Campbell asked.

Campbell added the idea would have to be considered more seriously when baseball expands to two, 12-team leagues. "I think this will come in five or 10 years," he said. "And, I think that when it does happen the split leagues will prove to be easier to handle and schedule."

Under Paul's proposal, Baltimore, Cleveland, New York, Washington and Boston would make up the Eastern Division with the Tigers, Chicago, California, Minnesota and Kansas City comprising the West.

The Tigers joined Boston, Chicago and California in expressing an open mind about the proposal. Cleveland, Baltimore and New York voted in favor while Washington, Minnesota and Kansas City were against it.
